A Creed to Live By

Don't undermine your worth by comparing yourself with others:
It is because we are different that each of us is special.
Don't set your goals by what other people deem important:
Only you know what is best for you.

Don't take for granted the things closest to your heart
Cling to that as you would your life, for without them life is meaningless.
Don't let your life slip through your fingers by living in the past or the future.
By living your life one day at a time, you live all the days of your life.
Don't give up when you still have something to give Nothing is really over ... until the moment you stop trying.

Don't be afraid to admit that you are less than perfect:
It is the fragile thread that binds us to each other.
Don't be Afraid to encounter risks:
It is by taking chances that we learn how to be brave.

Don't shut love out of your life by saying it's impossible to find.
The quickest way to receive love is to give love:
The fastest way to lose love is to hold on too tightly;
And the best way to keep love is; to give it wings.

Don't dismiss your Dreams; to be without dreams is to be without hope.
To be without hope is to be without purpose.
Don't run through life so fast that you forget where you've been,
But also where you're going.
Life is not a race, but a journey to be savored every step of the way.

These are the days

These are the days you'll remember.
Never before and never since, I promise, will the whole world be warm as this.
And as you feel it, you'll know it's true that you are blessed and lucky.
It's true that you are touched by something that will grow and bloom in you.

~Natalie Merchant

The 2000 Hilltop is Dedicated to:

Father Mike

Each year the senior class votes on an individual to who the yearbook should be dedicated. This person is someone who embodies admirable traits and who has contributed positively to the graduating class. This year, the seniors chose Father Mike as this special someone.

Father Mike has been an inspirational friend and teacher to the members of the class of 2000. In his role as director of Campus Ministry for their first two years, he served as an advisor and friend to many. His wise words, his humor and his dedication made him a key spiritual and educational mentor.

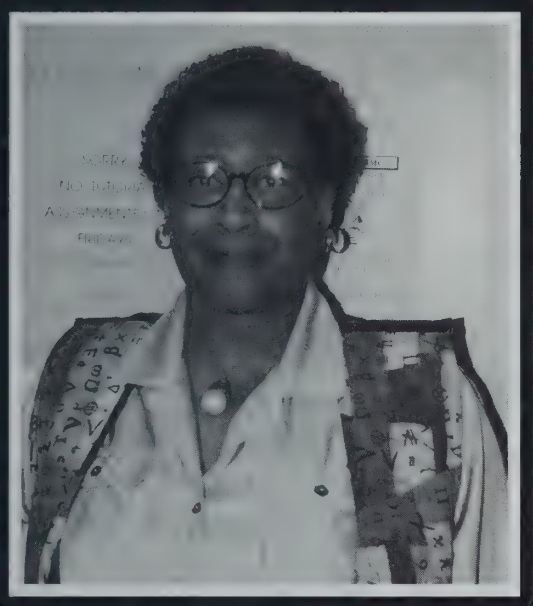

Mikes gifts to the community have been many. Most meaningful to the class is the gift that Father Mike gave the community 11 years ago. He single-handedly wrote the successful federal grant that funded the M.O.V.E. volunteer program, of which approximately 70% of the class has participated in over the past four years. Now, Father Mike will leave another legacy. Through his proposed Peace and Justice Program, he will begin a unique first-year program that will reach generations of Saint Michael's students.

Along with his devotion to the students, Father Mike has dedicated his life to serving the community as an educator and a member of the Society of Saint Edmund.

The Class of 2000 is grateful to Father Mike for his unconditional support and to making the campus and world communities a better place. Thank you Father Mike for the many gifts that you have shared with the class of 2000.

Retirees' Page

Thank you for everything! Good-bye and good luck.

Dot Williams

Historian, scholar, educator, visionary, friend and mentor to so many in our community, Dr. Dorothy Williams brought her wisdom and colorful wardrobe to our small Catholic campus initially to support our new Thea Bowman Scholars. Dot has nurtured the Martin Luther King Society, Diversity Coalition, ALIANZA, and the Humanitarian Network. Through Dot's vision Saint Michael's College has become a recognized multicultural leader in the State of Vermont. Our Annual Martin Luther King Day Convocation has brought to our campus the most outstanding African-American leaders in our nation.

Through her countless workshops, project, programs, personal encounters with students, faculty, and staff, and work with the Human Rights Commission, Dot has become the most visible and articulate spokesperson for justice and equality in Vermont. She has been a powerful presence in our community, a good friend to many, and her departure will leave a void in our hearts, and the hearts of all who struggle to build the Kingdom of God here on earth.

In Memory Of...Stephanie Bernath,

Once you have experienced the seriousness of your loss you will be able to experience the wonder of being alive. ~Robert Veninga

The future. I used to be so concerned with the future that I would let it blind me of the present. But then I met some of the most extraordinary people in my life. That is the basis of me sitting down to write this because I know deep down that Ali, Stpeh and Melissa would want everyone to know how much they loved them.

As I looked around the church Saturday evening it really hit me hard just how many people that these three touched. Listening to the stories about how many people had their lives changed by even the smallest of events. From either sitting next to Ali in class, being Melissa's lab partner or studying for a test with Steph; there were the things that touched people. Even if you had met them once and for only a short period of time you still felt as if you learned something from them.

I can recall sitting up until dawn on numerous occasions with Steph and Ali and this is when I learned the most about them. All three had a very friendly disposition, but one thing that sticks out in my mind was one of our "late night talks," Ali told me something that, as I think about it now, makes complete sense in this situation. Ali told me that you have to live for the moment and have no regrets. You can never go back and fix the past, only use the knowledge to guide you through the present. This was the way that they lived their lives, they loved unconditionally and had no regrets.

I think that if they were here today they would be rather embarrassed about all the feelings and love that we are sharing with each other. But that's because they were such modest people. Always willing to listen, but never wanting to take credit. They made life here at St. Michael's brigther for a lot of people and touched the hearts of all they me. They shall forever be our friends, sisters and part of this community. We will miss you all, but we will know that you are together and watching over us. God bless you all, and a safe journey to you.
All my love, Bob

"When you reach the end of all the light you have, and must take a step in to the darkness of the unknown, believe that one of two things will happen to you: either there will be something solid for you to stand on, or, you will be taught how to fly." ~Patrick Overton

Melissa Gordon, and Alison Hunter

I remember the first day that Steph, Ali, and Melissa moved onto my floor. Steph and Ali were my two "live wires", while Melissa was "quietly sweet". Ali's beautiful blonde curls bounced in and out of my room every day; she was my "morning cup of coffee". Like a light in the dark she always knew what to say and how to say it. Steph's laughter filled our hall with strength and playful vitality. Steph was like a wide-eyed firecracker; She encouraged us to be ourselves when she exploded with confidence and individuality. So much in fact, that my hand slapped my head as though, "what have I gotten myself into!" I could always count on Melissa's quiet support; she never missed an opportunity to smile or wave and say hello. Melissa treated everyone with an indescribable respect and sensitivity. Thinking of all this energy reminds me of a story.

I will never forget one of my duty nights. As I made my way down the second floor, I hear crashing noises above me. I rushed up to the third floor south only to come nose to nose with three giggling girls. I jumped out of the way as Ali, Steph, and Melissa bounded head over heals, bouncing against walls, on Steph's gigantic bouncy ball. Ben, Chuck, and the rest of three south cheered them on. Trying to be the responsible rule enforcer, I proclaimed "no hall sports!" With that, Melissa bounced off the ball and apologized profusely. The other two goof balls, however, looked me straight in the face and asked... "Would you like to try it?" Steph then chimed in with, "riding big bouncy things every now and then is good for the soul." Moral of the story is... No matter what happened on three south, those girls could always make me melt into laughter, as well as their floormates.

As a Resident Assistant, you often look upon your residents as an irreplaceable family... Sisters bound together buy tears, smiles, hugs and late nights. As I sat awake many late nights with my door wide open, however, I came to realize that these girls were like my "kids". I worried about their safety and hoped that I might teach them important life lessons. Whether we were mudsliding in the sopping wet quad, dying one another's hair over the bathroom sinks or playing with "Mr. Happy" I couldn't help but look up to my sisters. The truth is, they taught me more than I ever would have thought possible. Ali, Melissa, and Steph are bright rays of energy that will continue to inspire us.

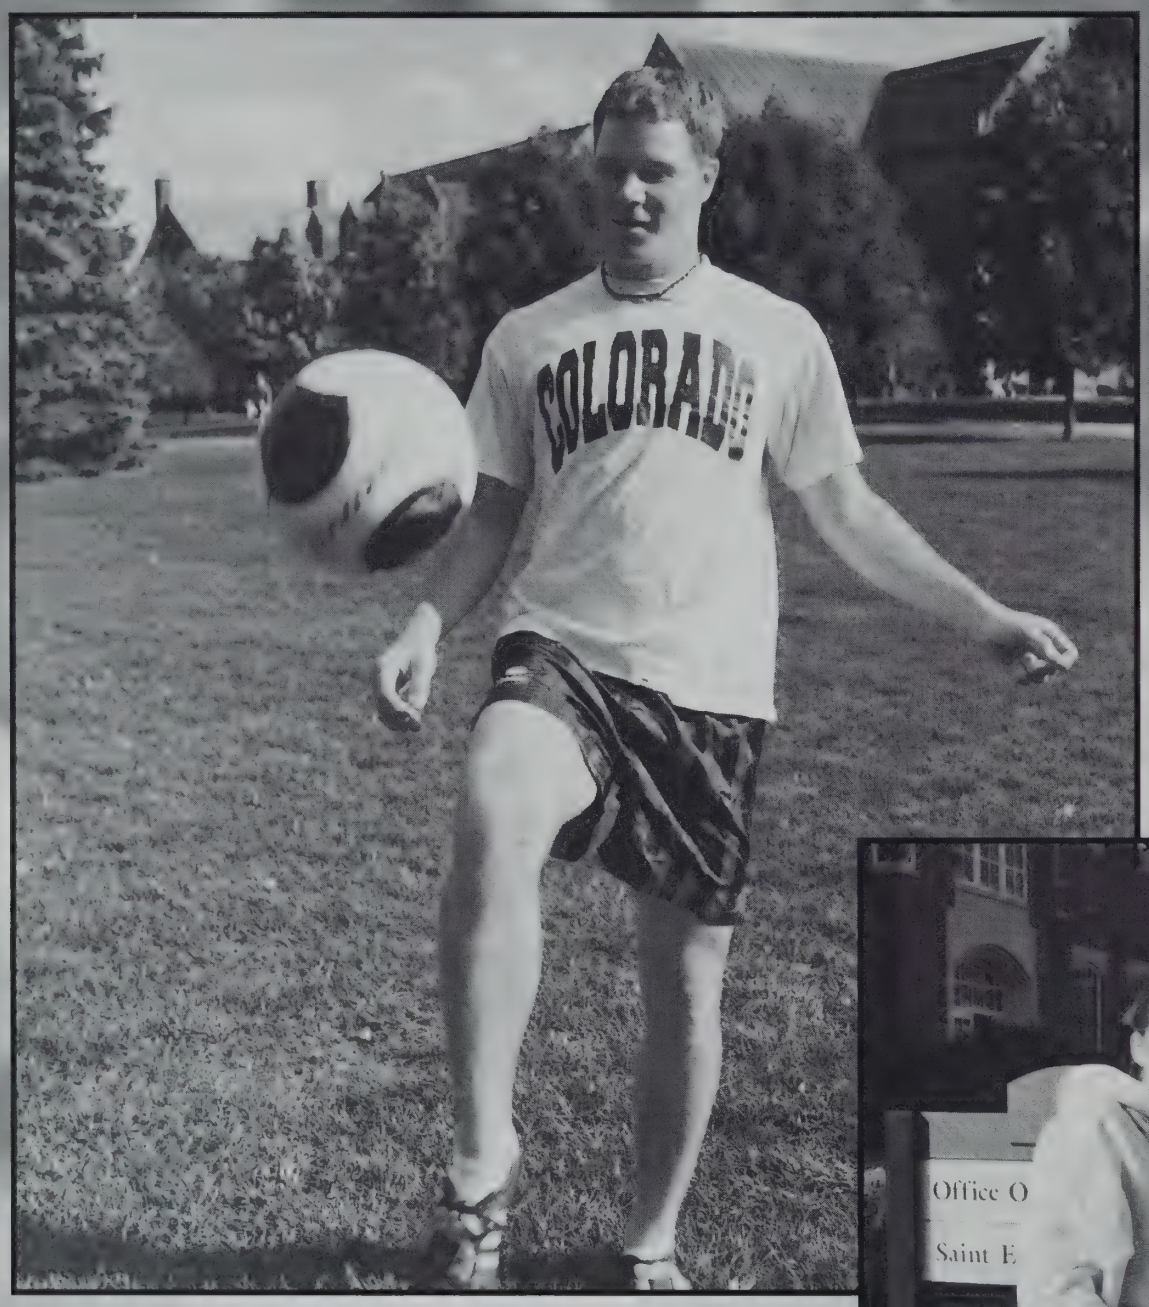

I would like to deliver this one message from our three angels... "Live each day to its fullest and never leave anything unsaid". I bet they are looking down on us right now, asking "Got Beef?" We will always remember Melissa, Ali and Steph for the incredible love they brought to the Saint Michael's community. I'm always thinking of you Southside (Ali, Steph, Melissa and the girls),
All my love,
Heidi

Diversity Coalition is a unified body of SMC students who work together with other humanitarian organizations such as MLK, ALIANZA, and Ally to provide educational sanctuary where post modern concepts of multiculturalism and ideology perspectives aid the individual with awareness and understanding for global community.

Our goal is to encourage open dialogue, educational opportunity, and to give the chance to celebrate diversity within and around the SMC community.

Diversity Coalition President:
Jeannette Garcia

Diversity Coalition

Students at SMC have many opportunities to come face to face with "real-world" problems and challenges. The students of the Fire and Rescue Squad regularly face those that are literally a matter of life and death.

At SMC, the Fire and Rescue Squad is an independent volunteer organization of men and women. In addition to their academic responsibilities, they have taken on the awesome burden of serving the public not only on campus but also throughout a broad area of Vermont's most populous country. With the dedication and support of the Saint Michael's Community, the Fire and Rescue Squad has run for over 30 years.

The Fire and Rescue Squads respond to more than 1800 calls annually involving respiratory and cardiac emergencies, as well as neonatal transports and structure fires. The Fire and Rescue Squads depend on volunteers who are committed to pushing themselves to the limit through ongoing training, leadership development, and emergency response. Each is motivated by a strong sense of community service.

Fire and Rescue

Free the Planet is a group of driven, ecologically minded students who strive to make the SMC Campus Community and the world at large a better place. Through weekly meetings we organize ways to increase awareness about issues that a are vital to the environment and many that directly affect the well being of students. Free the Planet, the environmental group on campus, is sponsored by a national chapter.

MOVE

(Mobilization of Volunteer Efforts)

MOVE is a service organization dedicated to two primary goals:

1) developing awareness of global needs by service to people in need, and subsequently creating and implementing programs that meet local needs directly and effectively; and

2) forging relationships that bring together volunteers and those in need as equals, thereby eliminating the stereotypes of abstract categories such as "homeless," "illiterate," "youth at risk," and "refugee."

In AFTER SCHOOL GAMES, volunteers become role models by participating in activities with children at the Burlington Boys' and Girls' Club.

AOK (Artists Outreach to Kids) entails Saint Michael's students bringing the fine arts to grammar school children by giving lessons in drama, dance, and music.

BEST BUDDIES creates one-on-one relationships between SMC students and mentally challenged youth and adults.

AFTER SCHOOL RECREATION is a weekly program where volunteers play sports and games with middle school students.

The CORRECTIONS program involves volunteers in activities such as sports or tutoring with residents of a local correctional center.

EXTENDED SERVICE sends students to volunteer at sites across North and South America with the hope of increasing awareness of global problems and inspiring local service.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY allows students to help eliminate poverty housing from the local area.

INTERNATIONAL OUTREACH attempts to promote integration among the International and American communities at SMC.

LITTLE BROTHER/LITTLE SISTER establishes one-on-one relationships with children in need of positive role models.

O.V.E. (Outdoor Volunteer Efforts) provides a broad array of outdoor/environmentally related activities.

Students in the SENIOR CITIZENS program establish close relationships with seniors in the area who might otherwise be alone.

SPECIAL EVENTS includes opportunities for busy students, since thy are mostly activities that occur on an occasional basis throughout the semester and do not require large amounts of volunteer time.

SWIM PROGRAM volunteers teach people with disabilities to swim or to be comfortable in the water.

TEMPORARY RELIEF volunteers prepare and serve dinner to formerly homeless people who are in transitional housing.

WINOOSKI RECRECATION volunteers work with children and youth from the Elm St. and Franklin St. housing developments.

WOMEN AND FAMILY participants work with various women's agencies in the area.

WOODSIDE REHABILITATION AND ROCKPOINT SCHOOL TUTORING pairs SMC students with students from a juvenile rehabilitation center and an alternative, private boarding school, in an attempt to foster better study skills and positive peer relations.

The Political Science Club has been established for the purpose of expanding political awareness within the entire campus community. Through political and civic involvement on campus and in the local communities and beyond, it is out goal to integrate pertinent political issues into the daily activities of those willing to accept the challenge. We are a nonpartisan, nonprofit, service oriented entity which aspires to increase the overall level of political awareness.

WWPV is the student run campus radio station, located on the second floor of St. Edmund's Hall. Broadcasting at 100 Watts, WWPV is able to be heard in most of the Burlington area. The DJ's are students, faculty, staff members, and members of the community.

WWPV has four purposes. The first is to give it's staff and volunteer disc jockeys experience in working in the field of radio. The second is to serve the people within the broadcast range with public service information and be an engine for social service organizations. The third is to provide the Burlington market with different varieties of music, allowing all types of genres to be played. The fourth purpose of WWPV is to be an outlet for new music from many genres.

In addition to the above goal, WWPV works closely with the Saint Michael's College Athletic Department to produce live broadcasts of the Men's and Women's Basketball teams as well as the Men's Hockey Team. Currently, WWPV is working on bringing it's signal to the stations website.

Theme Houses

W.A.V.E House

The W.A.V.E. house exists to create an opportunity to spread awareness of women's unfortunate exposure to violence. We believe that many women on our campus feel safe and secure in the "bubble" of St. Michael's College, but we think that women need to be made more aware. Our hope is that we will be able to educate both the men and women of St. Mike's about the facts, the reality, and the consequences of violence against women.

Kids First House

The Kids First House provides a place where students in the Little Brother/Little Sister porgram can bring there "littles" when they have nothing else to do. We plan monthly activities in conjunctionwith the LB/LS. We have had a Christmas party, a Halloween Party, movie nights, a snowman making contest, and much more. Four of us have "littles" of our own, we use the house as a place to bring them to eat or play video games. We love what we do and we love interacting with the kids, we have learned a lot from these kids and had fun in the process.

The Green House

"Recycling is easy...And it's kinda fun too"

Make-A-Wish House

The members of the Make-A-Wish House have worded with the SMC community in raising $$ for the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Vermont for the past two years. The Make-A-Wish Foundation of Vermont is a non-profit organization that grants the wishes of childresn suffering from life threatening illnesses. Such wishes include trips to Disney World, meeting a famous person or recieving a computer.Our duties cinsist of helping the foundation out with mass mailings, volunteering time at their fundraisers and running our onw fundraisers on campus. Over the past two years we have raised over $4,000 on campus alone.

Transfer Living House

The Transfer Living theme house has participated in a number of events to make transfer students feel welcome from the moment they arrive on campus. These events included transfer orientations, luncheons and house get-togethers. We are a 24 hour friend, to listen and help trensfer students make a smooth and enjoyable transition to St. Michael's College.

Awareness of Deaf Culture and Community House

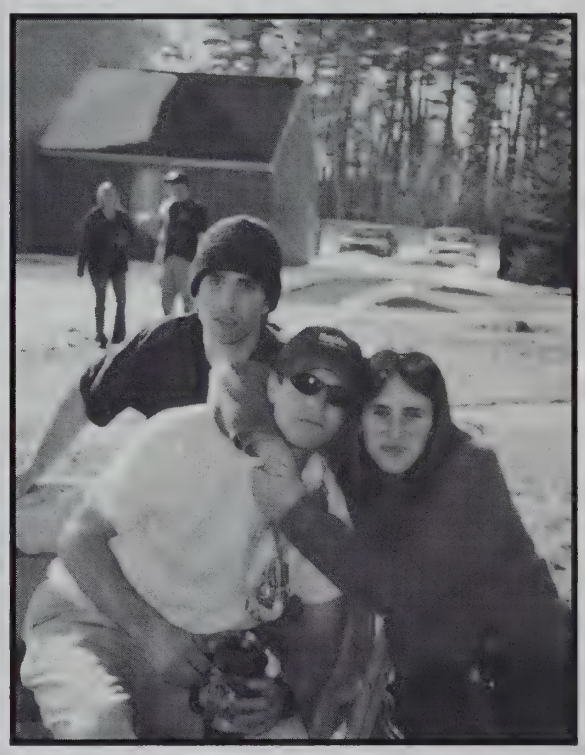

The Deaf Culture and Community theme house has done a variety of programs this year including a Deaf Culture night where we showed "Children of a Lesser God," and had art work and poetry by deaf people. We also sold cupcakes on Valentine's Day, which all the proceeds made were donated. Our biggest accomplishment this year was helping to start Project AHEAD. This is a club that we are some of the founding members of. Project AHEAD is for students, faculty and staff and is a place where thy can find out what resources are available to them. This is for the handicapped students and for faculty to learn how to work with these students. The memerts of the house are Kathleen Garrone ('01), Heather Derosia ('02), ChristinePlunkett ('02), and MEgan Guilfoil ('02). We also had the helo of Erikka Addams ('02), and Laurie Rago ('02) and they are just as much a part of the house as we are.

Encouraging words...
A group of frogs were traveling through the woods, and two of them fell into a deep pit. All the other frogs gathered around the pit. When they saw how deep the pit was, they told the two frogs that they were as good as dead.

The two frogs ignored the comments and tried to jump up out of the pit with all of their might. The other frogs kept telling them to stop, that they were as good as dead. Finally, one of the frogs took heed to what the other frogs were saying and gave up. He fell down and died.

The other frog continued to jump as hard as he could. Once again, the crowd of frogs yelled at him to stop the pain and just die. He jumped even harder and finally made it out. When he got out, the other frogs said, "Did you not hear us?" The frog explained to them that he was deaf. He thought they were encouraging him the entire time.

This story teaches two lessons:
1. There is power of life and death in the tongue. An encouraging word to someone who is down can lift them up and help them make it through the day.
2. A destructive word to someone who is down can be what it takes to kill them. Be careful of what you say. Speak life to those who cross your path.

The power of words....it is sometimes hard to understand that an encouraging word can go such a long way. Anyone can speak words that tend to rob another of the spirit to continue in difficult times.

Special is the individual who will take the time to encourage another.
Be Special to others.

Life

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low
and the debts are high,
And you want to smile,
but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit -
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a fellow turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out.
Don't give up though the pace seems slow -
You may succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man;
Often the struggler has given up When he might have captured the victor's cup;
And he learned too late when the night came down
How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out -
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit - It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.

Women's Cross Country

I can hardly believe that another cross-country season has come and gone. And what a season it was. Not only was it successful for many individuals on the team, but for the team as a whole. This was, by far, my best and most consistent season (performance wise) ever, for any sport, for any year.

There is something that stands out in my mind from each race. This year, finally being illness and injury free, was the first time that I raced on our home course, at Catamount, for the St. Michael's Invitational. The St. Anselm's Invitational was the first time I ran 21 minutes. I placed third on the team at the Codfish Invitational. At the Vermont State Meet, the team squeaked ahead of Lyndon to take second place. We placed second (in a very competitive field) at the St. Lawrence Invitational, and I set a new personal record. At NE-10's, we had a strong showing and came in 5th, and there was a 54-second gap between our first and fifth runner. To cap off the season, I ran in my first NCAA sanctioned race, the Division II Eastern Championships, and the team came in 22nd.

Besides the races, other things from the season that stick out in my mind are; pasta parties, karyoke, interval workouts in the freezing rain and in the sweltering heat, bus trips, "party barges," sing-a-longs in the van, Thunder Road, Mercy Hill, random back country dirt roads, Heinous Day, gossip runs, and Alliot dinners (just to name a few). It is because of my teammates that I remember these places and events so fondly. Each person brought something unique and very special to the team. Everyone was very dedicated to and supportive of everyone else, both in and outside of practice, and always pushed themselves, and each other, in every practice and in every race. They definitely created a positive, friendly environment, and not a day went by that I didn't look forward to practicing with them.

This fall has been one of, if not, the most enjoyable and memorable sports season ever. When I look back on the team and the results, I am very proud to say I was a part of that, the Saint Michael's Women's Cross-Country Team. ~Amie Rennie

The Saint Michael's hockey team came off a successful 1998-99 hockey season with a national championship. This years offense was led by senior captain Joshua Ralph, junior Jason Harrington and sophomore Jeremy Coccaro. The defense was anchored by senior captain Jim Murphy and strong play from the rest of the group. In goal Simon Theoberge had a good season leading the team with impressive play. The Ice Knights have a promising future because of the highly skilled freshmen class which includes 15 players. Freshmen Chad Lauze broke the school record for freshmen goals with 15. Joshua Ralph was named the Division II player of the year and was named an All American for the second year in a row. The Ice Knights record was 12 wins and 14 losses. The team beat Fitchburge State for the first time in school history. The future looks bright for the Ice knights who are only losing two seniors.

Of St. Michael's College

Manners

The tired ex-teacher edged closer to the counter at Kmart. Her left leg hurt and she hoped she had taken all of her pills for the day: the ones for her high blood pressure, dizziness and a host of other ills. Thank goodness I retired years ago, she thought to herself. I don't have the energy to teach these days.

Just before the line to the counter formed, she spotted a young man with four children and a pregnant wife or girlfriend in tow. The teacher couldn't miss the tattoo on his neck. He's been to prison, she thought. She continued checking him out. His white T-shirt, shaved hair and baggy pants led her to surmise, He's a gang member.

The teacher tried to let the man go ahead of her.

"You can go first," she offered.

"No, you go first," he insisted.

"No, you have more people with you," said the teacher.

"We should respect our elders," parried the man. And with that, he gestured with a sweeping motion indicating the way for the woman.

A brief smile flickered on her lips as she hobbled in front of him. The teacher in her decided she couldn't let the moment go and she turned back to him and asked "Who taught you your good manners?"

"You did Mrs. Simpson, in third grade."

Of the Class of 2000

I've learned-that it's taking me a long time to become the person I want to be.

I've learned-
that you should always leave loved ones with loving words. It may be the last time you see them.

I've learned-that you can keep going long after you can't.

I've learned-
that we are responsible for what we do, no matter how we feel.

I've learned-
that either you control your attitude or it controls you.

I've learned-
that heroes are the people who do what has to be done when it needs to be done, regardless of the consequences.

I've learned-
that my best friend and I can do anything or nothing and have the best time.

I've learned-that sometimes the people you expect to kick you when you're down will be the ones to help you get back up.

I've learned-
that sometimes when I'm angry
I have the right to be angry, but that doesn't give me
the right to be cruel.

I've learned-
that true friendship continues to grow, even over the longest distance.
Same goes for true love.

I've learned-
that just because someone doesn't love you the way you want them to doesn't mean they don't love you with all they have.

I've learned-that maturity has more to do with what types of experiences you've had and what you've learned from them and less to do with how many birthdays you've celebrated.

I've learned-that your family won't always be there for you. It may seem funny, but people you aren't related to can take care of you and love you and teach you to trust people again.
Families aren't biological.

I've learned-that no matter how good a friend is, they're going to hurt you every once in a while and you must forgive them for that.

I've learned-that it isn't always enough to be forgiven by others. Sometimes you have to learn to forgive yourself.

I've learned-
that our background and circumstances may have influenced who we are, but we are responsible for who we become.

I've learned-
that we don't have to change friends if we understand that friends change.

I've learned-that you shouldn't be so eager to find out a secret. It could change your life forever.

I've learned-that two people can look at the exact same thing and see something totally different.

I've learned-that even when you think you have no more to give, when a friend cries out to you, you will find the strength to help.

I've learned-that credentials on the wall do not make you a decent human being.

I've learned-that the people you care about most in life are taken from you too soon.

To: The Youngest One in Curls,

It all began with the three older sisters looking for the "It's a Girl Pins" one cool day in April. Little did we know you were going to change our lives forever, we just thought you were a big doll. Remember fifi and garcon (Mom does), taking up residence in your sisters' beds (mostly Mona's) and watching "The Parent Trap" over and over and over again (we all do). We won't forget your famous pink powder puff (Tara was pretty jealous), Rock and Roll Church, the Rye beach kids gang or your complete and total dedication to Reggie Lewis and Drew Bledsoe (Dad finally had a daughter that wanted to understand football). Hope you do not forget your luxurious spring vacations - Florida, California (when Lisa wore the blue shirt the whole time). Building forts, Disco Dave, Real World, Swim Team, Camp Huckins, Term Papers, European Trips, Cats - Powder Puff and Casey, Superbowl 1996, Babysitting and Working for Dr. Fisher, Where did the time go?

But upon your graduation, Mom said you have to get the tarnished dolphin jewelry and free beauty samples for all out of the green bathroom once and for all! And, your sisters are reclaiming their rooms whether or not you like it! Best of luck to the "Baby" (we know you hate that!)

Congratulations on this most wonderful accomplishment! We are very proud. Over the last four years you've earned your independence the hard way, taking on all the responsibilities and commitments demanded by a heavy classload and workload. And you never let anyone down!

As you now look forward to life after SMC, take the knowledge and leadership that you have gained, the caring you have always shown toward others, and of course that smile and have fun. In the future, as in the past, you know you can count on the unconditional love and support of your family and your God.

Good luck and God bless to our college graduate.
